Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

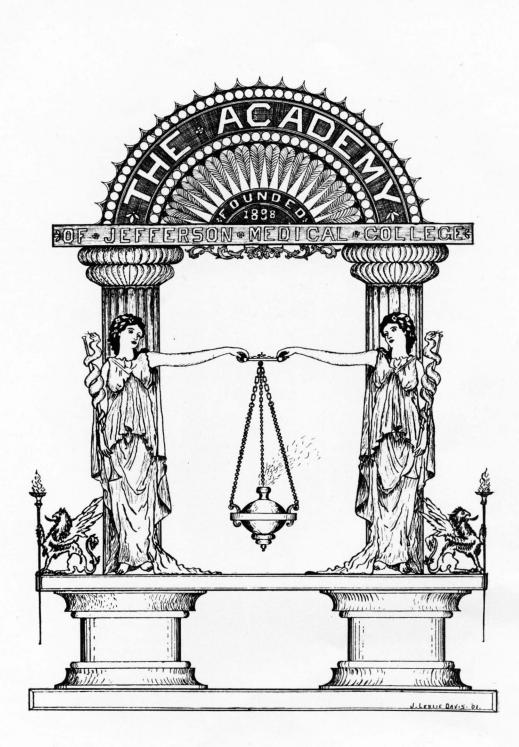

Yearbook Sketches

#ColorOurCollections

library.jefferson.edu/archives IG: @JeffArchives Twitter: @JeffArchives

Jefferson Medical College Yearbooks:

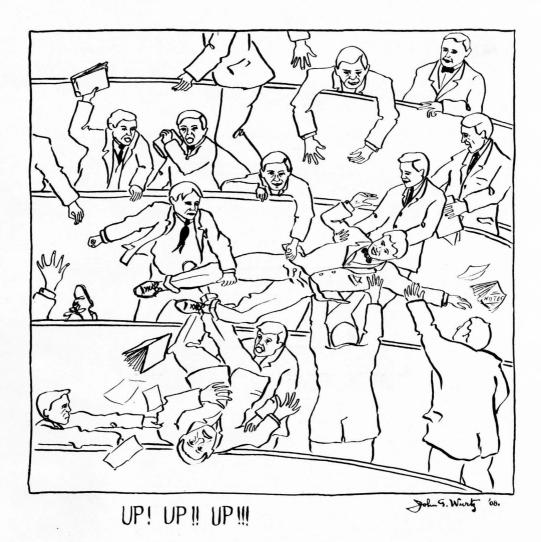

- Sesamoid 1900
- Clinic 1903
- Clinic 1908
- Clinic 1910
- Clinic 1912
- Clinic 1919
- Clinic 1920

Sesamoid Class Book 1900. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

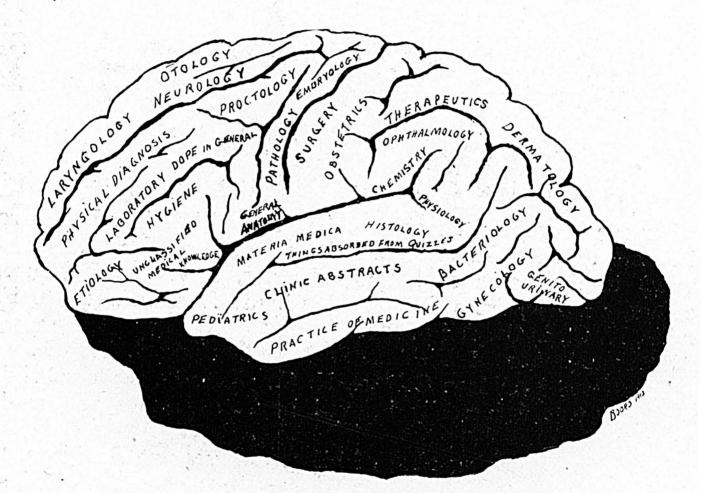

The Clinic Yearbook 1903. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

The Clinic Yearbook 1908. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

The Clinic Yearbook 1910. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

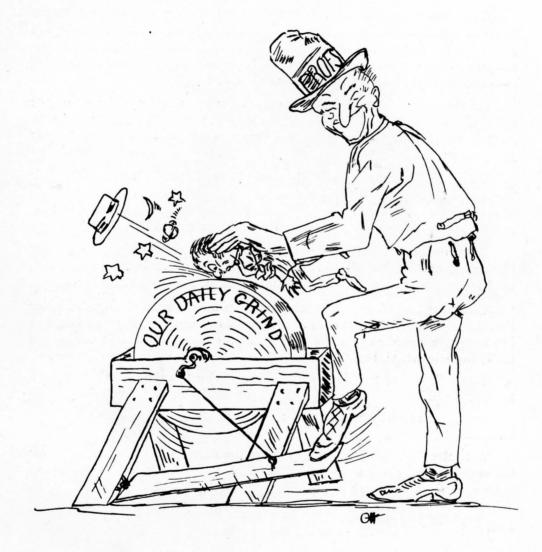

The Clinic Yearbook 1912. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

31

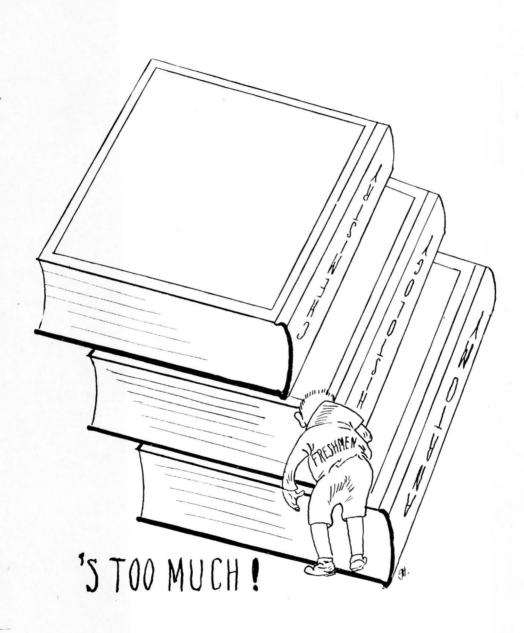

Perhaps mention should here be made and tribute paid to our former classmate, Mr. John Lentz, who contracted a severe attack of influenza, complicated by pneumonia and empyema, and has been compelled to drop out of college temporarily. He worked assiduously and energetically in South Philadelphia, entirely forgetful of self and animated, as the true physician always is, merely by a desire to alleviate human suffering. We sincerely hope that he may regain his health sufficiently to complete his medical course next year; the public and the profession are ever in need of men of his character. F. C. LECHNER.

The way we looked and The way on that first fill case

The Clinic Yearbook 1919. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

The Clinic Yearbook 1920. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

The Clinic Yearbook 1920. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

tinter .

The Clinic Yearbook 1920. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections

The Clinic Yearbook 1908. Courtesy of the Thomas Jefferson University Archives & Special Collections