

THE PEACOCK'S COMPLAINT

THE Peacock considered it wrong
That he had not the nightingale's
song;
So to Juno he went,
She replied, "Be content With thy having, & hold thy fool's tongue!"

DO NOT QUARREL WITH NATURE

Crane, Walter. Walter Crane's Painting Book. London & New York: Frederick Warne & Co. [19-?]. Sheila R. Bourke collection, McGill Rare Books and Special Collections. <https://mcgill.on.worldcat.org/oclc/8441550>

Crane, Walter. Walter Crane's Painting Book. London & New York: Frederick Warne & Co. [19-?]. Sheila R. Bourke collection, McGill Rare Books and Special Collections. <https://mcgill.on.worldcat.org/oclc/8441550>

Crane, Walter. Walter Crane's Painting Book. London & New York: Frederick Warne & Co. [19-?]. Sheila R. Bourke collection, McGill Rare Books and Special Collections. <https://mcgill.on.worldcat.org/oclc/8441550>