CAP. X.

IAM videre videor affatim demonſtraſſe, quod plantæ ex natalibus locis virtutes exſugant ſitu, cœlo, & cultu. Nunc ea loca quæ fuerint, æquum eſt recenſere. Sed vt noſtra lucidior reddatur oratio à locorum diuerſitate exordiemur, ac cum Theophraſto dicimus, omnis plantarum differentia à locis accipi debet; quippe quoniam fortaſſe aliter accipi nequeant, & generalem quandam facere poſſe diſtinctionem videntur, aquatilium, & terreſtrium, vt in animalium genere. Sunt enim quædam, quæ non niſi in aquis viuere poſſunt, quæ ſecundum genus humorum diſcernuntur, vt lacubus, paludibus, fluuiis, & quæ in ipſo mari naſcuntur. Nos ita diuidemus: Plantarum loca vel in aquis, vel in terris. Aquæ ſunt dulces, vt lacus, palus, & fluuius; ſalſæ, in mari. Terrarum varietas pinguis, macra, mediocris, ſaxum, vel arena. Amphibiæ ſunt, quæ in lacubus & terris, vel mari & montibus, vel aſperginoſis locis, & litoribus naſcuntur.

Nos ab aquarum incolis incipiemus, tum quod facilius dignoſcuntur, minuſque ſuos natales deſerunt: nam facilius 46 montana in paluſtribus viuit, quam paluſtris in montibus; tum quia earum indoles minus decipit; mox ad marinas, terrenas, & ancipites deueniemus; & ad has primo, quæ non niſi in aquis viuere poſſunt. Nunc lacuū incolæ faciem, idæam, vel archetypum effigiabimus; non quod ſingulæ quæ in aquis viuant, notas omnes, quas collegimus retineant, ſed communiores, & minus fallaces, vt huius comparatione de aliarum ſtirpium partibus congeneris facultatis indicium ſumamus: ſic quæ plus huius deſcriptionis retinebit, plus ad aquaticæ plantæ naturam accedit.

AMPLIORI igitur forma, quam ſui generis terreſtris ſuc-
